Congregation Kol Shofar's Legacy Circle

Thank you to our Legacy Circle members for their vision in ensuring future generations will have the benefit of a conservative Jewish experience in Marin. If you have made a provision in your will or estate plan for Kol Shofar, we would love to hear from you. By informing us of your intentions, you allow us to properly thank you and, with your permission, recognize you in "Kol Shofar's Legacy Circle," a group of committed congregants and friends who have planned a legacy gift for Kol Shofar.

If you have designated a legacy gift for Kol Shofar and have not yet notified us, please contact Kaia Burkett, Executive Director at (415) 388-1818, ext. 103. If you have questions about how to designate Congregation Kol Shofar in your estate plan, please contact Michelle C. Lerman, Legacy Committee Chair, at michelle@lermanlaw.com.

Introducing our High Holy Day Clergy and Rabbinic Interns!

In partnership with the Ziegler School of Rabbinic Studies in Los Angeles, and three generous Kol Shofar donor families: Julie Chaiken, Varda Rabin and Diane & Howard Zack. we are pleased to announce that one rabbi and three rabbinic interns will join the Kol Shofar clergy staff this year.

Rabbinic Intern Sam Rotenberg

Sam Rotenberg, a musical rabbinic intern, joins us for eight Shabbatot during 2016-2017. A partner to Rabbis Leider and Levy, Sam will help to expand our musical horizons, further experimenting with music in our ritual and spiritual life. Sam is the Head of Music at Ramah Darom outside Atlanta, one of the premier overnight summer camps of the Conservative movement. In addition to leading services, Sam will teach a monthly Lunch and Learn on Fridays and will spend significant time with young families in Beit Binah.

Rabbi Cheryl Peretz

Rabbinic Intern Rachel Marder

We welcome Rabbi Peretz and Rachel Marder to Kol Shofar for the High Holy Day season. This stellar team will lead our Community High Holy Day Services at the Mill Valley Community Center. Rabbi Peretz currently serves as the Associate Dean of Students at the Ziegler School of Rabbinic Studies in Los Angeles. Rachel is currently a fourth-year student at Ziegler.

We also welcome Tova Leibovic Douglas, a fifth year student at the Ziegler School, to lead our Early Childhood Family Services and Elementary School-age services on the first day of Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. Tova will also lead a family service with Isaac Zones on the second day of Rosh Hashanah.

Please join us in welcoming them to Kol Shofar!

L'Shanah Tovah!

Expand the Tent Beyond Our Walls: Community High Holy Day Services at the Mill Valley Community Center

By Rabbi Susan Leider

For millennia, we have flocked to this great communal homecoming: the High Holy Days. Some come for tradition, some come for family. Others come to express gratitude, to seek how to best live the lives we are given.

And yet, this looks a little different for everyone. For some, the thought of this homecoming evokes many questions:

What if going to a synagogue doesn't feel right for me?

When was the last time I went? I remember – I just didn't fit in.

Doesn't everyone who goes to temple know more than me?

Isn't it going to cost a lot of money?

In addition to traditional services in Beit Am with Rabbi Leider and Todd Silverstein, and the Musical Meditation Service in the Beit Kneset with Rabbi Levy and musicians, this year we bring the High Holy Days beyond our walls, by offering free High Holiday Services at the Mill Valley Community Center.

We encourage those who wish to attend to register online at www.kolshofar.org so we can welcome the community on the first day of Rosh Hashanah, Kol Nidrei and Yom Kippur morning. Participants in these services are welcome to join us at Kol Shofar on Erev Rosh Hashanah, Rosh Hashanah Second Day and Yom Kippur afternoon and Ne'ilah.

During Ne'ilah this year, there are two services: traditional in the Beit Am and Musical Meditation in the Beit Kneset.

This is our gift to the Marin community. Let your neighbors, friends and co-workers know that we welcome them home for Holy Days. Our tent grows to embrace those who long to connect with the Jewish community at this peak spiritual moment in our year.

School Year Reflections

By Jonathan Emanuel

As I stand at the edge of summer, contemplating the new school year ahead, I am reminded just how quickly time flies. The wonderful thing about Kol Shofar and the amazing families who make up our community is that we know how to savor each moment and experience each other and our time together as one. With those holy moments, time stands still and we can really "live" together in the present. I look forward to creating those holy moments together this coming year at Beit Binah, Tichon, Yamei Kehilah community holiday celebrations, and all other community gatherings and celebrations. I am particularly grateful that this year we have an opportunity to learn and prepare for the High Holy Days together in the weeks that lead up to Rosh Hashanah on October 2nd.

Having the "haggim" (holidays) begin later in the fall presents an awesome opportunity to learn about this time of year in depth and to prepare ourselves and our community for one of the high points of the Jewish year.

We are excited to be introducing our family picnic on Erev Rosh Hashanah, October 2nd, 5 p.m. at Boyle Park in Mill Valley. We hope that you'll join us for a lovely evening and the perfect way to begin the new year on a sweet note.

I am also thrilled to be welcoming in some excellent new educators to our Beit Binah and Tichon faculty family while embracing our veteran educators as they return from the long summer break. Lastly but most importantly, I am excited to see all of our students again, back from being recharged and energized from their summer breaks, ready to dive right back into the warm embrace of our loving community and continuing to develop their relationships with Kol Shofar, each other and Judaism.

Welcome home! We can't wait to see you!

How is Kol Shofar a caring community? Through people like You!

By Rabbi Chai Levy

As a rabbi, I have the sacred privilege of helping to guide people through life's most difficult transitions, including the end of life. During this process, time and again, I witness the extraordinary power of our Kol Shofar community coming together to honor the dead and to care for the mourners. The mitzvot of kavod hamet, honoring the dead, and nihum avelim, comforting the mourners, are essential parts of what creates Jewish spiritual community and what provides a sacred structure to hold us up when the ground falls away from under our feet.

In every generation and in every Jewish community in the world, the Hevra Kaddisha, or "holy burial society," is an essential pillar of the community, made up of volunteers from the community who care for the dead and for the mourners. Indeed, the Kol Shofar Hevra Kaddisha has been serving the community for many years, doing the holy rituals of washing and dressing the dead for burial (tahara), showing respect for the dead by sitting with them (shmira) before burial, and showing up for shiva minyanim, bringing food, and offering support and comfort to the mourners. The work of the Hevra Kaddisha is considered by our tradition to be Hesed Shel Emet, true lovingkindness, and is done anonymously, without recognition or reward, solely for the purpose of doing the mitzvah of creating the sacred structure of our Jewish traditions when people need it most.

Most of the members of Kol Shofar's Hevra Kaddisha have been doing this holy work for many years and are getting older, and it is time for new volunteers, men and women, particularly those easily able to do the physically taxing work of tahara, to come forward to take on this important work. We also are in great need of new volunteers who are able to provide meals for mourners after the funeral and during shiva. We want to be a community who can provide this holy structure in the future, which means: we need new members of the Hevra Kaddisha, particularly from our younger generations.

If you feel at all called to this sacred work, please email me at clevy@kolshofar.org or call me at 415-388-1818 ext 119. Don't worry about not knowing what to do—you will be trained. There will be a training session on December 4, 10:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. Also, in the meantime, there are wonderful learning opportunities through Lehrhaus Judaica's series "Walking in the Valley of the Shadow" about Jewish traditions around death and mourning, and Kol Shofar will be offering this series in the spring.

Thank you for considering taking part in this work, so essential to what makes us a sacred, caring community that can be there for people when they need us.
